

Macro (a closer look at the past week)

On Monday's Zoom meeting we went through about 160 images as part of selecting our candidates for the upcoming Mix n Match competition. We have another meeting this coming Wednesday to finalise the selection - and there is still time to submit images beforehand for consideration - particularly if you have images that show humour, cuteness, Christmas or squeamish-ness. We would also like to see more images that might be appropriate for the following rounds - the numbers 1, 4, 7, 9, the letter Q - remember they have to clearly fit the set subject for that round without having a title.

This coming week we have a Zoom talk from Simon Reed on "Music Photography: The View from the Pit". Simon is a freelance photographer from Haslemere, Surrey specialising in music and events. His work has been published in national newspapers and books, his photographs are syndicated worldwide via the WENN picture agency, and he's a regular contributor to music and culture magazines. He says "There aren't many things I've done that compare to the thrill of being between the crowd and the stage in a big theatre with three songs in which to nail your pictures. There are no second chances with this type of photography; you get it right first time, or not at all."
