

Macro (a closer look at the past week)

No meeting this past Bank Holiday week - but the Summer Photo Rally is running over the weekend 1-2 June. At time of publication there is still time to take some new images for the five set categories and submit 'straight out of camera' shots before 10pm Sunday. In a slight change to plan due to other commitments there will be category polls and overall poll over the coming week - with results sent out by email in the next newsletter. All the details are in the email sent Friday evening,

A reminder of last years' top images from the five categories - all taken in one evening over two hours.
